

The Yellow Dot below indicates where Google indicates the position of the Reference GPS.

In reality the white patch 5 meters to the North West is the concrete plinth on which the antenna sits so there is considerable error.

